Advisory Action

This Office Action is a response to Applicant's amendment and response after FINAL filed on September 10, 2002 (a copy by Fax filed on March 3, 2003).

- 2. Applicant's proposed amended claim, deleting "anxiety disorderes, schizophrenia, drug and alcohol abuse disorders, depressive disorders, cognitive disorders, Alzheimer's disease" and "Parkinson's disease, Tourette's pain" from the original claim, are not deemed to place the application in better form for appeals by materially reducing or simplifying the issues for appeal, as discussed further below.
- 5. Applicant's remarks filed on September 10, 2002 with respect to the rejection of claims 1-17 made under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Gold et al. (WO 99/01416) have been fully considered but are unpersuasive for reasons of record stated in the Final Office Action dated June 5, 2002.

As discussed in the Final Rejection, Gold et al. disclose that the same 1aminoalkylcyclohexanes as herein are useful in the treatment of CNS disorders or a living animal for alleviation of a condition which is alleviated by the NMDA receptor antagonists. The instant claims 1-17 are drawn to a method of treating a living animal for inhibition of progression or alleviation of a condition which is alleviated by a 5HT3 or neuronal nicotinic receptor antagonist such as emesis, crebellar trenor, and appetite disorders (see the instant claim 1) comprising same compounds herein. Therefore, the teachings of Gold et al. would be inherent in the instant claimed methods See Ex parte

Novitski 26 USPQ 2d 1389. Note that the amount of active compounds to be administered in instant invention is same as in Gold et al.

Even though Applicant's proposed amendment deleted "anxiety disorderes, schizophrenia, drug and alcohol abuse disorders, depressive disorders, cognitive disorders, Alzheimer's disease" and "Parkinson's disease, Tourette's pain" from the original claims, the proposed amended claims are still seen to be anticipated by Gold et al. under the doctrine of inherency. See Eli Lilly and Co. v. Barr Laboratories Inc. 251 F3d. 955; 58 USPQ2d 1869-1881 (Fed. Cir. 2001).

Therefore, Gold et al. anticipates the instant claims.
